Direct Trade with the East

Among the growing necessities of the times, none more loudly calls for active experiment on the part of our mercantile community than the opening of direct trade between Portland and home ports on the Atlantic. As a matter of economy in freight [illegible] measure would result to the benefit of direct [illegible] and as a matter of policy in retaining [illegible] of interior merchants there is no alter[illegible]. At the present time, California houses mo[illegible] the carrying and commission business of [illegible] and adjacent territories landing their [illegible] goods in San Francisco and compelling [illegible] to go below for supplies or pay a commission equal to the passage money and value [illegible] on such a trip. The additional freight from San Francisco to this port makes the [illegible] at least twenty five per cent more than it [illegible] direct from New York or Boston, and by the present arrangement the interior merchant can do as well by going direct to San Francisco for his [illegible] as our wholesale merchants can for [illegible]. There are sufficient inducements [illegible] our leading men would take the subject under serious advisement, to warrant the putting [illegible] of medium sized ship which would be [illegible] at regular intervals and [illegible] here receive cargoes of Oregon [illegible] lumber and spars for China, Europe, [illegible] or any other market whence they could take [illegible] advantageous cargoes for a completion [illegible] voyage.

[illegible] the merchant here could receive [illegible] in Portland almost as cheap as [illegible] importer he could offer in [illegible] trade which could not be [illegible] could sell his goods at less fig[illegible] profits and the ships engaged [illegible] would make more from the round [illegible] from ordinary marine trade [illegible] the return cargoes would be full [illegible] now merchants importing [illegible] from New York to fill [illegible] month if the shippers would [illegible] their patronage upon a new [illegible] results of such a measure [illegible] the peculiar avenues of [illegible] are now engaged. The farm[illegible] to raise large crops of cereals [illegible] the facilities for foreign market [illegible] that the Californians enjoy [illegible] resources it does not [illegible] improvement to anticipate [illegible] by home industry, [illegible] in our trade for which we [illegible] a market.

REGULATIONS [illegible] PIRATICAL SEIZURES [illegible] OCEAN STEAMERS.—[illegible] by a recent occur[illegible] General McDowell has issued the following [illegible] order which fully ex[illegible].

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF PACIFIC,
San Francisco, July 19, 1864

[illegible] able danger of an attempt to take [illegible] steamers on this coast by men [illegible] as passengers and then rising [illegible] the crew, the following regulations [illegible].

[illegible] as passenger on board of [illegible] steamers plying coastwise between [illegible] or between an American port [illegible] an American vessel [illegible] between foreign ports will [illegible] deliver any and every weapon in his possession [illegible] the officer of the ship who may be designated [illegible] the purpose by the masters or owners, [illegible]. This officer will effectually se[illegible] received will give receipts for [illegible] return them to their respective own[illegible] quit the ship at the end of their [illegible].

[illegible] That there may be no evasion of this order, [illegible] the duty of the master of every steamer above designated to cause passengers to be ex[illegible] one of the ship's officers as they come on [illegible] of the vessel, or, of the lighter, boat, or tug [illegible] to carry them to it and at the same time to [illegible] every article of baggage which the passen[illegible] have in their hands, or to which they [illegible] access to be thoroughly searched. Through [illegible] which shall pass at once into the possession of the master of the ship and to which passengers shall have no access during the voyage, need [illegible] be searched. Should there be an occasion for [illegible] visit, it must be under the eye of one of the officers or the person so visiting it must be [illegible] examined as he quits the baggage room. Through baggage not in a baggage room but placed on deck, or elsewhere within reach of passengers must be either searched or placed under constant guard, and no one allowed to open it, except in the presence of one of the ship's officers. Passengers who may on the voyage go ashore at any intermediate ports will be subjected to the same examination when they return, as when they first came on board.

3d. The steamer's officers should have arms for the protection and that of their vessel, and be on their guard that no one has an opportunity of seizing them.

4th. As there are so few things so annoying as these examinations those on whom this duty may fall are enjoined to make them with every consideration for the passengers, consistent with an effective compliance with this order.

In view of the calamity which the seizure of a steamer on these distant seas would be to the nation and the disaster it would entail on this coast and the ruin it would prove to the unfortunate travelers on board, it is confidently hoped that all good and loyal people will by their ready compliance therewith, be active in their support of the measure hereby ordered, that none but its covert enemies may be found denouncing, opposing, or endeavoring to evade them.

By command of Major-Gen. McDowell.
R. C. DRUM, Assistant Adj. Gen.

DEPARTURE OF SECESSIONISTS.—There is an apparently well authenticated report in circulation in this city to the effect that a party of twenty or twelve secessionists left this city on the steamer John L. Stephens on Saturday last, with the intention of capturing that steamer if possible, and failing in that, to make their way overland to Texas via Mazatlan.—Alta, July 26.

FIRST ASCENT OF MT. HOOD.—The Mountaineer [illegible] giving an account of the successful ascent of Mt. Hood, on the 12th July by Edward Ayres [illegible] "We believe that it is the first time that the [illegible] peak has been reached by mortal man." This is a mistake, the mountain has been ascended almost every year since 1857. As early as 1854 Mr. T. J. Dryer and others ascended on the south east ridge, running up from the Deschuttes, and gained the summit in [illegible] with a Mr. Lake and an Indian.

On the 6th August 1857 a party of five, W. L. Chittenden, J. G. [illegible]erdorf, W. S. Buckley, L. J. Powell and the proprietor of this paper, ascended it in the south side [illegible] at 12 o'clock, [illegible] hours from the time of leaving their camp below the snow line. The top they found to be a narrow crag in the form of a crescent [illegible] ridge running from west to east, and turning abruptly to the south at the east end, the inner side of which angle forms the black precipice a thousand feet high, always noticed from this city as being never covered with snow.

Expecting to find a level spot on the top the party was astonished to find at the point they reached it that another step would precipitate them thousands of feet down the north side, and it was some time before they could summon courage to stand erect on the dizzy height. The highest point of the mountain was a little to the east and clambering round a huge rock, each stood upon it in turn.

The extreme west end was mound shaped and more roomy, gradually descending to the west. Here, after eating their lunch, they sunk a staff in the snow and tying a handkerchief which looked more like the Turkish crescent, than our National ensign, left it fluttering gaily in the north breeze.

The view was indescribably grand. To the north, Mts. Rainier, Adams, St. Helens and Olympus, were plainly visible, and to the south, down the Cascades, in their order, standing boldly above the range, were Jefferson, the Three Sisters and Mt. Loughlin. The Columbia could be seen at intervals, but an immense fog bank shut out the ocean at the mouth of the river. The Willamette Valley was plainly to be seen to the Calapooias, and they saw what they took to be Salem. Portland was visible to the naked eye. In a depression in the range to the south about forty miles distant, was a large marshy lake, and to the north west were two lakes in rocky walls, and timbered to the edge. In the vast plains to the east, they could see the deep canyons through which the Deschuttes and John Days make their way to the Columbia, and the view was only limited by the haziness of the atmosphere.

After an hour spent in tumbling loose rocks over the north side, and watching them bound over the ice till broken to pieces or lost to sight, they made the descent without difficulty in about two hours.

The ascent was made entirely on the snow, and gradually grew steeper to the last three hundred feet, which were very steep. The crescent spoken of forms two sides of what was once the crater, and on the south-west side only an isolated peak remains, while the south side is entirely gone. From fissures in the peak a sulphurous smoke issued, which blowing down the mountain in the faces of the party, had a producing nausea, but no other effect was felt from the great altitude, except the ease with which blood started from a scratch. The mouth of the crater is filled with snow, though the heat of the mountain causes it to settle constantly, opening large fissures, through which vapor issues. The snow in these fissures looks tinged a deep blue.

By means of a rope they went down the crater, under the snow about thirty feet. The bottom could not be seen but the sloping side is covered with yellow sulphury dust. From the side of the east precipice a jet of smoke escaped with the regularity of the escape from a steam engine.

A broad chasm in the ice extended along the base of the last steep, from east to west. Down the mountain to the west it narrowed so as to be easily crossed. The sun had melted the snow into steps varying from one to two feet high, and clambering up these the top was easily reached.

On July 10th, 1858, a party of eight, two of whom were ladies (W. L. Chittenden, and sister, W. F. Cornell, T. A. Wood — Penfield, Dr. Glenn and lady, and H. L. Pittock) again tried the ascent. This time only four reached the top. New fallen snow made walking difficult and the ladies only went high enough to see Portland and the valley. Being early in the season, the mountain was covered with snow, and on the steepest part the sun had only melted the snow enough to make surface ice in the night, and it was necessary to dig steps with the iron points of their staffs. They raised a six foot flag on a staff made for the purpose in two sections. It had been intended to plant the flag on the Fourth, and pistols and fire crackers were taken along to celebrate. Although delayed, they were fired off amid toasts and jubilee. Whatever other party, if any had before reached the summit, this was certainly the first time the American Flag had ever been floated to the breeze.

They would have tried the height of the mountain by means of boiling water, but one of the party who carried the spirit lamp failed to reach the top. The bottle of alcohol was left at the summit and was burned there in 1859 by Messrs. Carnann and Bryant, of Clackamas county.

The descent to the crossing of the chasm was perilous in the extreme, all being obliged to feel their way by the steps cut in going up. All the party suffered from blindness caused by the reflection from the snow, and on the following day two of the party could see nothing and all suffered from swelling of the face, which broke in running sores, taking weeks to heal.

For the third time, August 29th, 1859, Chittenden and Pittock with Geo. F. Myers and Wm. Stephenson, made the ascent. The appearance of the mountain had only changed in the last three hundred feet being almost bare, and the summit was entirely free from snow. They found the climbing more difficult than ever. The stones and earth gave way beneath their feet and it was difficult to get a foothold. Those behind were in danger from the rocks started by those in advance, and all the while stones were falling from the crags above as fast as the sun melted away their icy fetters. On one occasion one of the party escaped only by a few inches a huge boulder, which would have dashed him into the fearful chasm below.

A wolf was tracked all the way up and across the summit, and the last traces were found toward the north east side. The mountain was covered with butterflies, specimens of which were secured and can now be shown. As the summit was clear of snow, they found places of greater width, and could walk half the length of the crest of the mountain. To the east their progress was stopped by the looseness of the rock and the extreme narrowness of the ridge at a place where the rock was covered with a white powder. Near the highest point they found a bottle containing the names of the Howard party from Clackamas county who had been there a week or so previously, and on the west end the remains of the fire crackers of the year before, but the flag and staff were gone, probably blown away by the winds. They felt no other effect than coolness from the north wind, and after gathering specimens and feasting on the surrounding scenery for an hour and a half, returned.

This party left a tin cup containing a Pittsburg paper with their names written on it in a crevice under the rocks at the point of ascent.

The party in the ascent of 1857 claim to have been the first to reach the extreme summit of the mountain because the west end is [illegible] one hundred feet superior to the east end and three different occasions have proved it impossible for Dryer's or any other party to reach the highest or west point from the Deschuttes along the ridge and up to 1857, no other parties to our knowledge have tried the ascent. If any party ever made the trip and reached the summit prior to that [illegible] we are willing [illegible].

BALTIMORE, July 30.—The rebels are supposed to have cut the wires between Monocacy and Point of Rocks. There is but little doubt that the raid is in force. The rebels are now operating on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

HARRISBURG, July 30.—A large rebel cavalry, artillery and infantry force entered Chambersburg this morning. Gov. Curtin has issued a proclamation calling the people to arms. The wires are all cut between Chambersburg and Cumberland.

A large public meeting was held here to-day and people are enrolling themselves rapidly.

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—The Bulletin's special from Harrisburg to-day, says: The rebels are marching in three columns. It is believed in official circles that the rebels are making for Bedford county and the mountains adjacent, as a sort of rendezvous. We have not learned whether the rebels are destroying and pillaging in their advance. The excitement here is intense over the capture of Chambersburg and the invasion of our soil.

HARRISBURG, July 30.—A gentleman who left Chambersburg this morning furnishes the following facts: The people of the town received information yesterday of the rebel advance. Merchants and business men immediately commenced packing their stock and before 10 o'clock last evening most of them were sent beyond the reach of the rebels. At 3 this morning the rebels advanced with a force of 8,000 mounted infantry and reached the town and encamped on the Fair Grounds.

This force was met near Mercersburg by a small force from Carlisle who opposed their advance stubbornly but were forced to withdraw.

The disposition of the rebel forces when they crossed the Pennsylvania line is thus described by our informant:

One party moved through Mercersburg another through Waynesboro and another by the way of Greencastle. Averill is reported to have engaged their centre and compelled it to fall back in great disorder.

This report needs confirmation.

The rolling stock on the Chambersburg road is being removed to this point. A large number of fugitive negroes are accompanying the trains. The rebels are reported to have burned the court house, town hall and other buildings in Chambersburg. There was no advance beyond Chambersburg took place to day. There is various estimates as to the number of the invading force, the largest putting them at 50,000, other reports place their strength at 30,000.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—No uneasiness is felt by Government in relation to the affairs in Pennsylvania.

Preparations are being made to get troops there which combined with the militia of the State will be amply sufficient to give the rebels a severe punishment.

PHILADELPHIA.—July 30, 11 o'clock P. M.—Dispatches from Harrisburg, announce the information that Averill had driven the rebels out of Chambersburg and was following them westward to London, Franklin county. The greater part of Chambersburg is said to be in ashes and 3,000 people were prisoners. Breckinridge was making a raid toward Wheeling with the intention of returning by the way of Kanawha Valley. It seems by the statement of prisoners that it is the intention of Longstreet to threaten Washington, while Breckinridge makes a raid in the mountains and Early holds the Shenandoah Valley.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, July 30.—The great event, long expected, namely, the explosion of the rebel fort immediately in front of the 9th Army Corps, came off at half past four this morning. Picket firing had been kept up all night, and in fact at the time the match was applied to the mine, skirmishers were still engaged on both sides. An immense column of dust was thrown up three hundred feet into the air. The fort which mounted 16 guns was reduced to a mass of ruins. Immediately after the explosion our artillery opened with one simultaneous, continuous roar along the entire line. The 9th Corps then charged the rebels, driving them before them to their second line of intrenchments, taking a number of prisoners, some of whom were dug out of the dirt badly bruised. Prisoners state that only about a dozen remain of their regiment. By 10 o'clock we had captured two other earthworks.

NEW YORK, July 31.—A special dated Head quarters Army of the Potomac, says: As soon as the explosion of the mine occurred, 120 guns immediately opened, while musketry played in a continuous fire along the front of the 9th, and part of the 15th Corps. Prisoners say they were completely surprised, those in front being mostly asleep at the time. One prisoner says that they had been busy mining under our works and in two days more would have been ready to blow them up.

LATEST—HEADQUARTERS, July [illegible] P. M.—[illegible] just [illegible] say that we have possession of the [illegible] first line of the rebel works with a large number of prisoners. Our loss in the charge was severe as the men had to cross an open field to reach the rebel position. The troops engaged were the 9th corps supported by the 18th, the 2d and 5th being in reserve.

The firing is still going on with great fury and Grant, Meade and all the corps Generals are at the front watching its progress.

The Tribune's special says that Grant's new flank movement has entirely changed the aspect of affairs. By it his right is [illegible] the north of the James river within ten miles of Richmond, enabling him to throw his whole force on either side of the river within a very few hours compelling the enemy to cover Richmond with a large force as well as Petersburg.

We have an interior line which compels them to risk an engagement, and the advantage is on our side.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Herald's correspondent from Bottom Bridge dated the 28th has the following:

Prisoners report that when it was discovered that the 2d corps were on the north of the river, the enemy immediately commenced pushing troops from Petersburg to [illegible].

Lee was completely taken by surprise and obliged to use the utmost dispatch in forwarding reinforcements to these points.

All the roads between James river and White Oak Swamp were strongly defended.

Last evening Merritt's brigade of cavalry drove Hampton's troops from an important [illegible] on the Central road.

Gen. Kautz took possession of Malvern Hill which [illegible] by the rebels to protect one of the Richmond roads.

During the engagement [illegible] Malvern Hill [illegible] good service.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Herald's Nashville special of the 29th says: Sherman's army is again in motion [illegible] an English important operation [illegible] the investment of Atlanta. The enemy attempted to thwart the movement by [illegible] but they were badly [illegible]. During the [illegible] past week several [illegible].

[illegible] Bragg came to Atlanta to attend a council of war held for the purpose of consulting as to the holding of Atlanta at all hazards. It was then given to Hood on the condition that he would defend the city to the last. The rebels [illegible] possibly may keep us [illegible].

Last Night's Dispatches.

NASHVILLE, July [illegible].—An [illegible] battle occurred at Atlanta [illegible]. Our loss was less than six hundred [illegible] estimated by General Howard [illegible]. We buried 642 dead rebels [illegible] others were left unburied. During the night [illegible] were covered while the enemy were [illegible]. The rebel Generals Lower, Stewart and Long were severely wounded. Everything is progressing favorably, the army being in good condition and spirits.

CHAMBERSBURG, July [illegible].—On Saturday morning, two hundred rebels under McCausland entered Chambersburg and demanded a half million of dollars from the citizens. [illegible] complied with they threatened to burn the town. The requisition was in writing and signed by Gen. Early. It is now an established fact that the demand was a pretext to cover the purpose of the marauders which was fixed before reaching the town to burn it without giving any time to remove private property. Scarcely time enough was given for the citizens to remove their families. They fired the town in nearly fifty places. Two thirds of the city is consumed, including all the public buildings, stores and hotels. A large portion of the citizens are reduced from comparative wealth to absolute poverty. The loss is nearly a million dollars.

HARRISBURG, July 31.—The fact that the most valuable portion of the merchandise had been removed from Chambersburg added to the rage and disappointment of the rebels, and when this increased the order was given to fire the Court House. As soon [illegible] communicated the flames to the adjoining buildings. A party of soldiers sacked several drug and chemical stores made turpentine balls and throwing them in all directions set fire to various parts of the city.

[illegible] soon communicated in one general conflagration and the scene soon became appalling. The [illegible] flames, the screams of the women and children and the pitiful appeals of the old and helpless for protection, formed an indescribable scene. [illegible] the most valuable and elegant public and private buildings were destroyed. The rebels remained long enough to see the flames get under proper headway when the alarm being given that Averill was advancing with considerable force they left.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Gold [illegible].

The Richmond [illegible], speaking of the fight on the 26th near New Market, acknowledges the defeat with a loss of four twenty pounder Parrott guns.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The operations had the effect to withdraw a large rebel force from Petersburg.

The 18th corps correspondent says that at the election that was held on the 28th among the North Carolina troops notwithstanding the intimidation by the rebel leaders nearly half the votes were cast for Holden.

QUARTZ MILLS.—The steamer [illegible] two more quartz mills [illegible] for the Rockafellow [illegible] of the [illegible] designed for operation on the [illegible] Boise.

[illegible]—The Oregonian [illegible] the Appeal for once has made [illegible] the first sentence of the [illegible] circumstance because [illegible] an error [illegible] refuted above appear [illegible] we believe [illegible] of the interior paper.

"RETURNING TO WEB FOOT."—Among the passengers of the steamer Wilson G. Hunt [illegible] there was quite a prodigy, in the form of a [illegible] eight years of age weighing 105 lbs. He was accompanied by his parents, and in reply to a question concerning his destination, stated that he was "returning to Web foot." We understand he is a native of Oregon.

MISERABLE STUFF.—All efforts of our pressman to produce a perfect impression and print a clear edition of the OREGONIAN, have been failures for several weeks past, on account of an abominable [illegible] consisting of miserable, dirty ink. We are in hope of avoiding anything of the kind in future and [illegible] soon as possible will get out of this scrape.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—The suits of John T. Hall vs. Frank Dekum, John Thompson and Thomas A. Davis, for the possession of real property, were yesterday brought up before Judge Deady, at Chambers. The demurrer to the complaints were argued and overruled by the Court. The defendants have until the 14th inst. to answer to the complaints.

OVERBOARD.—In discharging some portions of the quartz mill machinery from the steamship [illegible] evening the gang plank slipped off and precipitated a heavy amalgam pan into the river. No person was injured in the fall, and it is thought the pan will be easily "fished up" to day.

PERSONAL.—Major Putnam, Paymaster United States volunteers, arrived in the last steamer. He leaves to day to relieve Major Marston, at Fort Walla Walla, who, in turn, relieves Major Winston at Fort Vancouver.

KOOTENAI.—We have seen a gentleman direct from the Kootenai mines. He brings with him [illegible] of the dust, and his opinion is that the Kootenai is quite as rich in gold as the Boise country.

TREASURE.—Messenger West, of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, brought $10,000 in treasure from the upper country last evening. There was about forty passengers by the same steamer.

The New Governor of Idaho.—Hon. Caleb Lyon, of Lyonsdale, N. Y., the newly appointed Governor of Idaho, arrived on the steamer Oregon and will leave to-morrow for his new home. The Governor is one of the pioneers of this coast, having arrived in California in 1848. He was one of the Secretaries of the California Constitutional Convention, and the seal of that State now attests the originality of his mind, the design being his own. He has had considerable experience in public life, having been appointed by President Polk the first Consul to China, under the Cushing treaty. He has served in both branches of the New York legislature, and was elected to Congress from Silas Wright's old district, by the largest vote ever given a Congressman from there. He assisted Mr. Marsh, our Minister to Turkey, in settling the difficulties between Mr. King, the Missionary, and Greece. His correspondence in the Kotza affair, when he was with Capt. Ingram, is familiar to many of our readers. He was with Gen. Scott in Mexico, with Gen. McDowell at Bull Run, with Kearney during McClellan's Peninsula campaign. He has been through eight battles, is a live Governor, and looks but little older than he did fourteen years ago, when we first knew him knocking about the mountains of California. Being an old miner himself, he can early learn, and we believe will promptly supply, all the wants of the miners among whom he is to govern.

"Jumping the Bars."—The steamship Oregon, which sailed into our port yesterday morning from San Francisco, displayed great agility in getting here, a part of the tactics being to "jump the bars" she was not allowed to pass. It may seem to be a strange proceeding for a ship to be guilty of such an "unruly" act, in farmer's parlance, but it is no less a truth, and for fear that our advantages as a city may be "jumped" by some place farther down the river, we would impress upon the minds of our citizens the propriety of their taking some action for the removal of those bars. The Oregon grounded about two miles below the city, between Blackstone's and Giles' places, a locality where heretofore [illegible] has been an abundance of water, but, like the [illegible] of a mining claim, the bar is accumulating [illegible] proportions annually. A second trial, and considerable floundering was necessary, to cross the bar.

Heavy Casting.—We witnessed the pouring yes[illegible] of the heaviest casting ever yet made in the [illegible] Oregon, being a pile-driver hammer, of [illegible] weight, made at the foundry of Mr. D. [illegible] this city. The pattern was moulded [illegible] under the supervision of Mr. Bates [illegible], foreman, and George Sutherland, moulders. [illegible] was stocked and heated until about [illegible] was melted when the work commenced [illegible] one-half hour was completed. Some [illegible] Mr. Monnastes cast a similar piece [illegible] 1500 pounds, which make two very [illegible] castings, and prove that our city has advantages [illegible] doing such work, which should not be [illegible] by persons who are constantly sending [illegible] for iron machinery.

A Nest of Runaways.—One horse started three [illegible] the streets of our city yesterday, and the [illegible] the same as usual under the circumstances [illegible] runaway races. It seems that [illegible] start they make a tearing among [illegible] walks. Some sensible man recommends [illegible] affectionate chaps who go out into [illegible] every farmer whose wagon [illegible] along [illegible] a ring into their side-walk, to [illegible]. It might diminish the number of [illegible] and break downs. In this connection [illegible] recommended to our livery-men that they [illegible] vers scary horses and mean vehicles [illegible] best way of disposing of such stock [illegible].

[illegible] Bedlam seems to have broken [illegible] our streets within a few days past, and the [illegible] terribly. It strikes suddenly [illegible] calm, and promises much for [illegible] authorities, and the Recorder's [illegible] lamentably dull for the season. [illegible] commenced on Saturday evening [illegible] was employed by one of the Deputies, [illegible] making an arrest. Last evening a [illegible] was knocked down in the Delmonico, and of[illegible] arrested a disturber on Front street, amid the plaudits of "served him right." We trust the peace of [illegible] may be preserved.

[illegible]—A man was engaged yesterday [illegible] "panning out" gold dust from dirt and rock [illegible] the rear of Goldsmith Bros. old assay office [illegible] of Front and Alder streets. His pans were [illegible] and washed in the regular way, and [illegible] question concerning the richness [illegible] that he "got a little gold [illegible] several persons looked on, watching [illegible] they "couldn't see [illegible] profitable business.

The Christian Commission.—Rev. G. H. Atkinson of this city, has laid upon our table a neat little [illegible] defining the principles and position of the United States Christian Commission, which is recommended to the perusal of all who feel an interest [illegible] objects of this noble cause. The subjects are [illegible] discussed in the pages of the work before us, and we regret that our limited space will not admit of an extended notice of them.

Quartz Mills.—The steamship Oregon brings on her present trip two more quartz mills for our mines. One of them is for the Rockfellow mines, [illegible] a duplicate of the Ainsworth Mill, with ten stamps [illegible] of water power. The other is a large mill, [illegible] judge by the accompanying sections, with steam boiler and engine, and is marked for parties at Umatilla, designed for operation on the Landon [illegible] in Boise.

A Mistake.—The Oregonian, a few days ago, said that [illegible] Circus had smashed up. The Dalles Mountaineer [illegible] company will exhibit in that city on the 16th inst. [illegible] Appeal.

[illegible] friend of the Appeal for once has made a [illegible] error in crediting the first sentence of the [illegible]. We mention this circumstance because [illegible] remember ever finding an error in the Appeal before. The assertion refuted above appeared, we believe, in one of the interior papers.

"Returning to Web-foot."—Among the passengers of the steamer Wilson G. Hunt, last evening, there was quite a prodigy, in the form of a boy eight years of age, weighing 105 lbs. He was accompanied by his parents, and in reply to a question concerning his destination, stated that he was "returning to Web-foot!" We understand he is a native of Oregon.

Miserable Stuff.—All efforts of our pressman to produce a perfect impression, and print a clear edition of the Oregonian, have been failures for several weeks past, on account of an abomination consisting of miserable, dirty ink. We are in hope of avoiding anything of the kind in future, and as soon as possible will get out of this scrape.

U. S. Circuit Court.—The suits of John T. Hall vs. Frank Dekum, John Thompson and Thomas A. Davis, for the possession of real property, were yesterday brought up before Judge Deady, at Chambers. The demurrer to the complaints were argued and overruled by the Court. The defendants have until the 14th inst. to answer to the complaints.

Overboard.—In discharging some portions of the quartz mill machinery from the steamship last evening, the gang plank slipped off and precipitated a heavy amalgam pan into the river. No person was injured in the fall, and it is thought the pan will be easily "fished up" to-day.

Personal.—Major Putnam, Paymaster United States volunteers, arrived in the last steamer. He leaves to-day to relieve Major Marston, at Fort Walla Walla, who, in turn, relieves Major Winston, at Fort Vancouver.

Kootenai.—We have seen a gentleman direct from the Kootenai mines. He brings with him some of the dust, and his opinion is that the Kootenai is quite as rich in gold as the Boise country.

Treasure.—Messenger West, of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, brought $16,000 in treasure from the upper country last evening. There was about forty passengers by the same steamer.

Arrival of the Steamship Oregon.—The steamship Oregon, Francis Connor Commander, arrived from San Francisco, yesterday morning, having sailed on the 27th ult., direct for Portland. She brings about [illegible] tons of assorted freight, and the following passengers:

[illegible] Walter W. Giles, Arthur P. Usher, [illegible] Perham, J. McInlay, [illegible] J. M. [illegible], W. W. A. Williams, [illegible] Mrs. Kaulston, [illegible] C. H. Comstock, Mr. Beely, Major George A. Putnam, Mrs. Susan M. Watts, Miss E. Clark, Mrs. Shede, Miss Ross, Miss H. Sch[illegible], Mrs. W. B. Carter and son, W. L. Avery wife and 2 children, Col. H. R. Spalding, wife and family, J. H. Brown and 3 children, W. Watson wife and daughter, Mrs. Mary Walker, Mrs. Fallen, Mr. Holman, Rev. Mr. Wilbur, Mrs. Holman, Misses Holman, J. F. Culver, Rev. F. Kuppers, E. Spedden, Rev. Mr. Smith, G. Robinson, E. Ryan, Mrs. C. H. Northrup and 2 children, Mrs. Crossen and child, Mrs. A. Ferguson, H. G. Depree, J. D. Holman, J. G. Russell, (Wells, Fargo & Co's Messenger,) and 70 others. G. L. MURDOCK, Purser.

Carpeting.—Walter Brothers are now receiving by every steamer, large additions to their stock of oil cloths, carpeting, etc., and their establishment is certainly a fine place to select such articles from. Persons in want of carpeting will do well to give them a call.

State Agricultural Society.—We are in receipt of the premium list of the "Oregon State Agricultural Society, to be awarded at its fourth annual Fair, commencing at Salem, Tuesday, September 27th, 1864, and continuing four days." It is a pamphlet of 44 pages, of value to all interested.

Loss of Constitutional Vigor.—After a life of gaiety and sensual pleasure comes the never failing premature loss of manly vigor, with its grey hair, trembling limbs and general lassitude. If anything can rekindle the nearly extinguished fire, and bring back the system to vigorous health, it is the Protoxide of Iron in the form of PERUVIAN SYRUP.

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "slight cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.

☞ Periodical Headache—so common in uncleared and marshy countries, Tic Douloureux, that most painful affection of the nerves of the face, are often only attacks of ague in disguise—proceeding from the same noxious influence. Jaundice, Dyspepsia and Diarrhea, are frequently but disguised forms of Intermittent Fever. Even Rheumatism and Epilepsy, often result from the same miasmal cause. For such, Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue is an unfailing remedy. By striking at the root of these affections, it applies with equal certainty, as for the cure of Fever and Ague in its simplest forms.

MARYLAND A FREE STATE.—The twenty-third Article of the Bill of Rights reads as follows:

"Hereafter in this State there shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except in punishment of crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted; and all persons held to service or labor are hereby declared free."

This article after a protracted debate in the Constitutional Convention, in the course of which it was sustained in a masterly manner by the advocates of anti-slavery, was passed, as our readers have already learned, by a vote of 53 to 26 [illegible]

There is no single act in the history of Maryland that can compare in importance with the passage of this Article. As we gaze through the long vista of coming years and contemplate the changes that will be wrought by this measure, we are overwhelmed with the immensity and the significance of an act so wondrous in its simplicity.

The reception of this news hardly creates a ripple upon the current of our tranquility. It was a foregone conclusion, and our minds were long ago made up in regard to its realization. We are not taken by surprise, and we do not hurrah with wild excitement. We simply enjoy the calmer and higher satisfaction that springs from the consciousness of the duty done. We understood the nature of the obstacles to be overcome, and we knew at the same time how to remove them. We rejoice quietly in the hour of consummation, and in our inmost heart we are exceedingly glad at the success which has crowned our efforts.

The members of the Convention will look back upon this day as one laden with precious memories. Should it be the only public act in the life of any one of them, that life will not have been lived in vain. It is not granted every man to gild the evening of his declining days with such a reminiscence.

The regeneration of a commonwealth like ours is not an everyday occurrence. It is hard to estimate this work at its full value. But we shall know and see it better hereafter. All we know now is that the vestiges of a great evil are cleared away, that the canker of a great iniquity is extirpated root and branch, that to our posterity no compromise is bequeathed which may be a fruitful source of discord hereafter. Races are forgotten and humanity is honored. We have joined the strain of rejuvenated States in the march of freedom. We have torn away the mask from the deformity of slavery, and we have wrenched the rod from the oppressor. We look to the future with hearts full of hope and trust, confident that Providence in its own good time will work out for us a brighter destiny.

We offer our hand to our sister States and ask their congratulations. We ask them to join us in the prayer, God preserve the Commonwealth of Maryland. They have watched our course with approving smiles and cheered us with words of encouragement, and in the hour of joy we shall not forget the thanks we owe to them.—Baltimore American, June 27th.

ST. PATRICK'S BODY FOUND.—While the workmen engaged in the renovation of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, (and which renovation is being carried out by the munificence of Benjamin Lee Guinness, Esq., who has already expended upwards of £120,000 sterling on the sacred building), were digging up a portion of the flooring in one of the aisles they discovered a large stone coffin of curious workmanship, buried a few feet below the surface. The coffin, when opened, was found to contain the skeleton of an ecclesiastic, supposed to have been buried there some six hundred years! The skull was perfect, but the bones crumbled into dust when exposed to the air. On the lid of the coffin there was a full length figure of a bishop in his robes. It was inspected by some antiquarians, including Dr. Todd, who expressed his belief that it was the original founder of the church, St. Patrick. It is in good preservation, and is in every respect a most interesting relic. When the church is finished it will be placed in a prominent position, because there is no more remarkable antiquity in the building.—Irish Paper.

THE GRAPE CROP.—The Stockton Independent says: The grape crop this season is excellent in the valleys and mountains, and it is pleasant to know that the owners of small farms whose grain and hay crops have failed, will realize very handsome returns from their vineyards. Wine makers in Calaveras are paying six cents per pound for grapes picked and boxed, they delivering the same to the [illegible] themselves. At this rate of compensation the persons who grow the grapes will do very well. The labor of three men for about two months to the year will average 15 tons of grapes, which at $120 per ton sums up $1,800, and this is not thought to be an exaggerated statement.

A prominent manufacturing firm in Hartford, Connecticut, have for several years tried to purchase a valuable piece of land which adjoined their mills, belonging to an old lady. They had repeatedly offered her $7,000 for the lot, which she refused. About a year ago they succeeded in purchasing it, the agreement specifying that they should pay [illegible] down, and $200 per year as long as she lived. She lived just long enough to receive [illegible] and the firm now owns the property.

THE Telegraph, a Catholic newspaper of Cincinnati, is in favor of abolishing slavery in the entire Union by Constitutional amendment. It asserts that many members of that denomination, who a few months ago would not even think of such a thing, are now anxious to see the work of emancipation fully accomplished.

I[illegible].—While John Clendening, of California, was dying at the jail from the effects of his wounds, and at the same time in a feeble voice was disclosing the plots and objects of the secession gang with which he had been connected, it is stated that a prominent secessionist of this county said to him in an undertone, "Why don't you die like a man and not make a calf of yourself!" These fellows were very uneasy lest some of their treasonable designs might be exposed.—San Jose Mercury.

GEN. GILMORE.—The Sacramento Union's lady correspondent, writing from New York, June 27th, says:

General Gilmore is at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He intends visiting his family at West Point before assuming a new command.

SALT LAKE merchants have added 80 per cent. to the price of their goods, and in one day flour was sent up from $14 to $24 per hundred, and all in obedience to the commands of the Mormon Church, which is in favor of a gold currency.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

OR PROTECTED

Solution of Protoxide of Iron,

Has been used with Great Success in Curing

DYSPEPSIA,

Affections of the Liver, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Consumptive Tendencies, Disordered State of the Blood, Female Complaints, Chronic Diarrhoea, Boils, Scurvy, the prostrating effects of Lead or Mercury,

GENERAL DEBILITY,

and all Diseases which require a

Tonic and Alterative Medicine.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so well authenticated and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.

The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public:

Rev. JOHN PIERPONT,	THOMAS C. AMORY
THOMAS A. DEXTER,	PETER HARVEY
S. H. KENDALL, M. D.,	JAMES C. DUNN
SAMUEL MAY,	Rev. THOS. WHITTEMORE

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effects of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN, and this solution may replace all the proto-carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M. D., Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DIScovery of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton, of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 8, 1859, page 76).

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

Full directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists. Price, $1 per bottle. Prepared by Dr. H. Anders & Co., Physicians and Chemists, New York.

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure for the maladies above mentioned, and also

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once reinforced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING OR PAINFUL
URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to
